As an owner of rental property within the City of Williams, you can elect to have the utilities automatically reconnected in your name when a tenant disconnects utility services. The advantage is that the water is not physically turned off so problems such as pipes freezing, automatic sprinkling systems not working, etc. are avoided. If the utilities are put back in your name, you will be responsible for the payment of the utilities provided to the property at the rates established by the Williams City Council until you request they be disconnected or the next tenant has them reconnected in his/her name. The utilities shall include water, sewer, and garbage. To avoid water charges, you must request the termination of water services to the premises.
